

PURPOSE OF THIS TOOL: Not-for-profit entities (NFPs) maintain documents and records, including emails, in the normal course of business, but it is not always clear how long those records should be preserved. A written document retention and destruction policy provides guidelines on the appropriate process that an NFP's employees and volunteers should follow. This tool contains sample elements that can be used in the creation of a document retention and destruction policy. As with any policy of this nature, the NFP may wish to consult legal counsel for assistance in developing a document retention and destruction policy that is appropriate for the organization.

Document Retention and Destruction Policy

General

The Document Retention and Destruction Policy identifies the record retention responsibilities of staff, volunteers, members of the board of directors, and outsiders for maintaining and documenting the storage and destruction of the organization's documents and records.

The organization's staff, volunteers, members of the board of directors, committee members and outsiders (independent contractors via agreements with them) are required to honor the following rules:

- a. Paper or electronic documents indicated under the terms for retention in the following section will be transferred and maintained by (fill in the blank based on the organization's practices);
- b. All other paper documents will be destroyed after three years;
- c. All other electronic documents will be deleted from all individual computers, data bases, networks, and back-up storage after one year;
- d. No paper or electronic documents will be destroyed or deleted if pertinent to any ongoing or anticipated government investigation or proceeding or private litigation (check with legal counsel or the human resources department for any current or foreseen litigation if employees have not been notified); and
- e. No paper or electronic documents will be destroyed or deleted as required to comply with the Uniform Guidance (Federal Compliance Standards).

Record Retention

The following table, adapted from the National Council of Nonprofits, indicates the minimum requirements and is provided as guidance to customize in determining your organization's document retention policy. Because statutes of limitations and state and government agency requirements vary from state to state, each organization should carefully consider its requirements and consult with legal counsel before adopting a Document Retention and Destruction Policy. In addition, federal awards and other government grants may provide for a longer period than is required by other statutory requirements.
